

A Special Message About 2019 TRF Camping

Dear TRF Camping Patrons,

Year over year, the Texas Renaissance Festival has sought to provide an exceptional festival camping experience while keeping prices as affordable as possible.

In the last several years, the festival has added to the amenities provided to our customers, including:

- Expanding the campground size and infrastructure
- Paving roads and adding electrical lighting on main paths
- Expanding restroom facilities, as well as water and dump stations for RV's and trailers
- Maintenance and groundskeeping

Obviously, these things have a cost assigned to them. We try to keep the cost of camping as low as possible while not sacrificing necessary services. In the past, we have charged all patrons equally on a per vehicle basis, regardless of the size of the vehicle or the number of people inside.

This year, TRF is implementing a new campground admission price scheduled that will be based on the size of the vehicle or vehicle/trailer combination. While we have held prices for tent campers at the 2018 rates, larger trailers, RV's, and motor coaches will see an increase in price. We believe that this is a more equitable cost breakdown as it is based on the amount of space utilized by the camper. The new admission fee is as follows:

Single cars & trucks/tent campers:
$35 (Gate)/$25 (Online)

Vehicles w/ travel-trailers (excluding goose-neck trailers):
$45 (Gate)/$35 (Online)

Large vehicles & travel trailers (Class A/C, 5th-wheel trailers):
$55 (Gate)/$45 (Online)

While this fee structure will result in some patrons paying more, we strongly believe that camping in the Fields of New Market is still the most cost friendly way to enjoy a weekend at the Texas Renaissance Festival. Here is a cost comparison for a family of 4*:

Accommodation	Pricing	Total Cost
Area KOA Camp	3-night stay/Family of 4/35 foot fifth wheel	$230.25 average
Other Area RV Parks	3-night stay/Family of 4/35 foot fifth wheel	$135 average

*This comparison is intended to present the costs on a per weekend basis. Venues listed here will vary in terms of amenities and price structures. Prices confirmed as of April 1, 2019.

Please Note: The camper-size price rate DOES NOT apply to camping season passes or camping admission tickets sold during the Sale of the Century. Camping season passes are $149.95 through May 17 ($16.66 per weekend) and $249.95 (27.77 per weekend) until September 30. Camping passes sold during the Sale of the Century will be $18.95 each and are good for any size vehicle/trailer combination.
